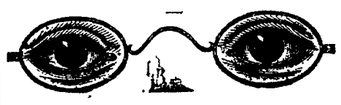
UNFAILING
EYE PRESERVERS!



The large and increasing Sales of our celebrated
Perfected Spectacles
AND
EYE GLASSES,
In Massillon and vicinity by our Agent,
Louis Schaufele, Jeweler,
Is a sure proof of their great superiority over the ordinary glasses. We were satisfied that the reality of the advantages secured by their use, viz:
The Brilliancy of Sight!
The perfect ease & comfort,
And the readily ascertained improvement of the eyes, continuous and abiding as it invariably is, would be sufficient to insure their almost general adoption by the residents of this locality. And the result has proved we were right—as an assistant to and Preservers of the Sight.
To extreme old age they are unapproachable, and are really cheapest, because lasting so many years without change being necessary.
Mr. Louis Schaufele, Jeweler, is the sole and only agent in this locality, and has always on hand a full assortment of Cold, Silver, Steel, and Shell Frames,
Suitable for every difficulty of the sight.
CAUTION!—We wish it distinctly understood that we do not Supply or Employ Peddlers, here or elsewhere. Beware of their false representations to the contrary.

A SINGULAR PROPOSITION.—Dr Sage has undoubtedly discovered a perfect specific for catarrh, judging from the universal satisfaction and approbation we hear expressed by several persons who have used it. R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., the proprietor, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, has so much confidence in the remedy, as to offer a standing reward of $500 for a case of catarrh that he cannot cure The remedy is said to be very mild and pleasant to use. It may be procurred by enclosing sixty cents to the proprietor, or of any druggist in the land.—Toledo Blade. 2 t

Half way up Lookout Mountain the place where memory is stirred by a thousand thrilling associations, and where the brave boys of both armies met and fought hand to hand, where the blood of both friend and foe was mingled together and ran down the mountain side in rivulets, is a smooth-faced rock, upon which a poor, wounded soldier inscribed the following:
"S. T.—860—X.—Early in the battle I was wounded, and carried to this spot by two clever 'Yanks.' They bade me farewell, and as they supposed, to die, for I was so weak from loss of blood that I could faintly thank them for their kindness. They left in my canteen a part bottle of Plantation Bitters, to which I owe my life, for it strengthened me, and kept life within me until help came and my wound was dressed. God bless them for their kindness, and for the Plantation Bitters.

INDEPENDENT.

SOME of the democratic journals are querulously complaining of the time and money spent in decorating the soldier's graves, and with malice and ill-concealed anger cry out that the money had better be expended in buying bread for the widows and orphans. This is eminently democratic, is characteristic of a traitor's head and heart, but it is not new. In old times, Judas Iscariot pleaded the same argument in regard to a costly box of ointment lavishly poured out as an offering of love and gratitude.—Medina Gazette.

Every word of the above is emphatically true. All at once the democracy are very sympathetic in behalf of the soldiers, but how was it during the war? Not a few of them rejoiced over the defeat of union soldiers, and so far from giving them and their families material assistance, they preferred to give aid and comfort to the enemy. These things are yet fresh in the recollection of many, and the complaining party had better let such allusions alone, for any number of unpleasant reminiscences can be brought up to cancel anything they may choose to get off now as to how the memory of the brave dead shall be honored and respected. These same soldiers were also the enemies of this now whining democracy.

The French people are becoming restless, at least many of them. Late papers inform us that in one district some 600 political arrests were made; and the recent election indicates that Napoleon is not satisfying the Gauls as well as he is himself, for the number of members elected to the legislature, in opposition to his policy, is increasing. The emperor has become very arbitrary, so that the liberty of the press in that country may be considered abolished as completely as slavery is in our own. An intelligent, spirited people may submit to such tyrany for a while, but their patience will eventually become exhausted; and when the French people get in that mood their rulers are very apt to be made acquainted with the fact, as several of Napoleon's predecessors found out in language that even the Bourbons could understand.

PEACE JUBILEE.—On the 17th inst the great singing school commenced at Boston, and was continued through the week. It is certain that the concert was a loud one, as some thousands of musicians, vocal and instrumental, are to participate. And not only were the ordinary instruments brought into requisition, but part of the programme includes banging on anvils, and the base was to consist of firing cannon, assisted by a huge base drum some 8 feet in diameter. If the hub did'nt raise a racket that extended to the ends of the earth it was not for the want of effort. The noise and clatter of our own machinery here, and the racket kept up at intervening places, prevented us from hearing the tremendous harmonies, but if we could not hear them we shall be visited by the echoes thereof roaring through the land on the wings of steam and electricity through some thousands of newspapers.

A STRIKE—It is reported that some of the tiplers about Youngstown are on a strike. It is not of the ordinary sort of strikes, where higher wages are asked, but a strike for lower prices for drinks. Some of the grogsellers there are underselling the others, and thus securing more customers, and the strike is, to get all of the r. g. peddlers to come down in their prices. But it is none of our funeral, and the grogites may fight it out as best they can. There is a drink, however, which they can have for nothing, and we suggest that they go for it. Without laborious search they can find it gushing from the hillsides everywhere, and is distilled in the alembic of nature.

MASSILLON AHEAD.—The following article, taken from the Courier, Rome, Georgia, of June 12, beside giving us the fact harvest commenced there some two weeks ago, also details the particulars of a trial of some half dozen competing reapers, and the judges awarded the meed of praise to the Excelsior machine, manufactured by E Bayliss of this place. This flattering testimonial is a very encouraging indication that the productions of this establishment are duly appreciated by those who are considered competent judges of such machinery. Mr Bayliss recently forwarded a car load of these Excelsiors to Georgia, and even before this trial took place half of them were disposed of—of course the remainder will not long be in the market, if they are not already in the possession of farmers.

The Reaping Match at Cave Spring.

We had the pleasure on the 10 inst., of attending the reaping match at Cave Spring. After the fine showers of the night before, the weather was still lowering during the morning, and hence the assembly there was much smaller than it otherwise would have been. Yet some two hundred intelligent farmers, alive to progress, and anxious to avail themselves of all the substantial improvements pertaining to their noble vocations, were there, and a beautiful representation of the Creator's last and loveliest work, graced the occasion with their charming presence.

The goodly number of the most enterprising planters present on this occasion, was gratifying evidence of the fact that the days of old fogyism are numbered, in this section, and Excelsior is the motto of our thrifty agriculturists. It is fast becoming evident that all who would attain the highest degree of prosperity in cultivating the soil, must avail themselves of the best labor saving machinery, and the best implements.

On account of the dampness of the morning, it was past 11 o'clock before the contest commenced. The field selected was on the Lake place, now cultivated by Capt Bowdrie.

The six following machines were entered:

The Iron Clad Excelsior, and the Wood Frame Excelsior, by W L Wadsworth & Co. Agents—driver, P R Herrick, traveling agent for the manufacturers; Wood's machine and the Buckeye, entered by Ayer, Hills & Co., agents—drivers of the former, G W Baxter, travelling agent of the manufacturers, and Col S F Smith; of the latter, Red Shorter, (colored).

The World and Ohio machines, entered by Morrison & Mitchel agents—driver, Mr Ball, agent of the manufacturers.

The following are the judges appointed by the Vann's Valley Farmer's Club:

A A Jones, chairman; B W Brown, of Houston county, R J M Perkins, of Cherokee county, Ala.; Jas Noble, Sr., and F A Glenn.

The wheat was good, the ground even, though rolling, and, so far as we observed, all had a fair chance in the contest—though in justice to the others we would state that the driver of the Excelsior seemed to be a little more expert than the rest in the management of his machine. How much of this seeming was due to the construction of the machine, we were not able to tell.

Mr T E C Brinley, of Louisville, Ky. the inventor and manufacturer of the celebrated Brinley plows, was present, and from his large experience in such things, made many valuable suggestions in regard to the management of the contest. He is a genial, wholesouled man, and a real benefactor to our country. We may have occasion to speak of some of his recent inventions at some other time.

We cannot close this hasty article without expressing our admiration at the interest manifested by the ladies of Cave Spring and vicinity, in this effort for improvement and progress. The collation they had prepared for this occasion was in rich abundance, and showed them to be complete mistresses of the culinary art. May they never be in the want of materials they so well know how to use.

The following is the report of the judges:

CAVE SPRING, June 10, 1869.
President Farmers' Club, Cave Spring:
The committee appointed this day to decide upon the merits of the machines on exhibition, beg leave to say that we were highly gratified with the work performed by all the machines, but upon as close observation and inspection as we were able to make, we were constrained to decide that the Iron Clad Excelsior, all things considered, is entitled to the first place in our decision.

Wooden Excelsior, to the second place. No 2.

For the World we beg leave to speak in commendable terms, on account of its fine and well executed machinery.

For the self raker or Wood machine, we are forced to say, it had no adjusted competition in the self-raking machinery attached, but we recommend it as a good machine.

In our decision, we beg leave to say that we were guided, first: On what we considered the intrinsic merits of the work performed.

Second. By the prices of the respective machines.

Very Respectfully,
A A JONES, Chairman,
R J M Perkins,
F A Glenn,
J Noble, Sr.,
B W Brown,
} Committee.

An exchange has the following: 'It is said that there is a more editors unmarried than any other class of professional men.' For the reason, we suppose, that the majority of them are men of fine sentiment, and do not wish to starve anybody's sister.

"The Universe."—The Chicago has ted over a year since by H. N. F. Lewis, (publisher of the Western Rural,) as a literary weekly, and which has distinguished itself for some months past by its discussions of social questions, is to be enlarged and the name changed to, The Universe. The Chicago Sorosis and Advance Guard have also been purchased to be merged therein. The first issue under the new name, to appear June 24th, will contain a paper by Hon. Robert Dale Owen, entitled, "Spiritualism a Moral and Social Necessity." Something on this subject from a man of Mr. Owen's eminence will attract much attention among all thinkers. Mr. Owen, Epes Sargent, and others are to write regularly. There will also be commenc'd a story involving social questions entitled, Married; or, A Woman's Deception, by Mrs Caroline F. Corbin, author of "Rebecca; A Woman's Secret, of which the Morning Star, (the leading Baptist organ,) says:—There are power, and art, and genius, and skill, and passion, that show it to be the work of a woman, busy with great problems which the country cannot escape." Every number will also contain two or more completed stories and sketches and much other matter. The facts given concerning social crimes are startling.

The terms of The Universe are $2,50 per year or three months on trial for fifty cents. Try it three months, or send ten cents for a specimen copy. Address the Publishers, H. N. F. Lewis, Chicago.

Who Hath Woe?

One of the most awful pictures of the effects of drinking is given us by Isaiah: "Woe unto them that rise up early that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them! And the harp and the viol, the tabret and pipe and wine, are in their feasts; but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands. Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge; and their honorable men were famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst. Therefore hell has enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure; and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it."

The most casual observer must be struck with the striking fitness of the prophet's description as regards the effects of drinking in our own country. Here, in this boasted land of Bibles, with our multiplied means of preaching the Gospel, our numerous Sunday schools, young men's Christain associations, tracts, and mission societies, the liquor stores and the dram shops are by far better attended on the Sabbath than the house of God. In this land of common schools and free education, drunkards, and the children of drunkards, are as ignorant as Hottentots, thousand of families are daily being starved, famished, and ruined; our graveyards are enlarged, and the grave constantly kept open, and the abyss beneath is being hourly peopled with impenitent drinkers. Sixty thousand drunkards in our own country die annually; many die drunk; and all die prematurely, in consequence of drinking. Every ten minutes, therefore, the gate of death is opened to admit some poor victim to the bar of God to receive sentence from that Judge, who has said, "The drunkard shall not inherit the kingdom of heaven." As we do not bury by night, but only through about eight hours of the day, the grave is opened every three minutes to admit the mortal remains of some poor wretch who has been slain by strong drink: And if to the list of drunkards we add those who are poisoned and destroyed by moderate drinking, and others who perish by murder, starvation, grief, and other evils resulting from the use of inebriating liquors, we may safely affirm that, during the common burial hours, the grave is every minute kept open in consequence of the use of intoxicating drinks. And how pertinent the words of the prophet, "The grave has enlarged herself, and hell hath opened herself without measure"

And have the people of God nothing to do with this? Can they be indifferent spectators of the desolations of this fell destroyer? Can they view with apathy its ravages, and be guiltless? Alas! alas! is it not the case in many parts of our land that professed Christians are to be found engaged in the spread of intemperance, either supplying the poison that nourishes it, or by their example encouraging its use?—Vindicator

It is estimated that 490,000,000 gallons of alcoholic liquors were drank the past year in this country. We have about 500,000 paupers in the country, made such by intemperance, and the cost of their support amounts annually to $30,000,000. The expense to the United States on account of crimes committed under the influence of rum is estimated at $40,000,000 a year, while that consequent upon insanity, more than one of which has been proved to be chargeable to this cause, is $12,000,000 To these amounts add the cost of liquor, about $1,088,000,000, and the value of the grain, sugar and property destroyed, with the labor lost, and sickness in hospitals, and we find the amount expended in this country for the curse, to be $1,650,000,000.

A Virginia editor who belonged to the fighting rebels of the south, exhibits in his columns this picture of our northern political opponents:

"The glorious democracy of the north! The forgers and riveters of our chains. The hounders of a brave people to destruction. The heroic proxy-martyrs who bear with such noble equinamity and patient endurance the suffering of their southern brethren. The men who, safe in the rear, beseech the poor devils in Virginia, Texas and Mississippi to keep up the fire until a reaction gives them the spoils. Oh, they are a chivalric, a glorious set! Their advice has been high sounding and has always led to fair results. By all means, let their counsels guide us for the future."

The Independent.

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY J. FROST & P. WELKER.

Massillon, Wednesday, June 23.

Constitutional Amendment—YES.

End of another Year.

Six years ago, at a time when our nation was involved in a terrible war, which threatened even its existence, and when, naturally, all our national affairs were in a fictitious or unhealthy condition in consequence thereof—especially was it the case financially—the Massillon Independent first made its appearance. That was a rather unfavorable time to commence such an enterprise, and especially in a phace where several of our predecessors had not succeeded in similar adventures. But at that period (1863) and for many months previous to the beginning of that year, no paper had been published at Massillon. At the earnest solicitation of many of our prominent citizens we issued proposals for a paper, and in a short time sufficient encouragement was held out to induce us to embark in the experiment of a new paper, the initial number of which appeared on the 3d of July, 1863. Since that date the paper has appeared weekly, with but a single exception. With its history since that time our citizens are familiar. Its existence appeared to be indispensable in this community, and during the past it has been our earnest endeavor to render the Independent a somewhat useful institution to its patrons, and advantageous to the community in which it is located, and for whose benefit it was, in a great measure, established. Although not what it might be, in the estimation of some, and not what we ourselves would prefer, yet the most difficult to please, we are persuaded, will say it is better than none.

Our citizens have willingly sustained our efforts made in their behalf by their liberal patronage, which has enabled us to keep right along without embarrassment. Thus we hope that our mutual efforts have proved advantageous to the community in which we are located, and that the Independent, even with its shortcomings, is a somewhat useful noun.

Since its commencement it has been our satisfaction to witness, as well as duty to commend and record many improvements, which the energy and enterprise of our citizens have projected and completed; and we hope that our words of encouragement have not been uttered in vain. And whatever here after we may be able to say or do to secure success in all lawful and useful enterprises, in this vicinity, we hope to be not found wanting in this behalf. For we find it much more pleasant to urge and aid in the promotion of that which all unite in pronouncing good, than be forever whining and complaining over the misfortunes or what we may deem the misdeeds of those by whom we are surrounded.

As long as we may in the future be connected with the Independent, it shall be our aim to render it advantageous to its patrons, in the way of material, social, political, educational and moral advancement of our fast increasing community. In thus endeavoring to perform our duty, we freely solicit a continance of that encouragement which the liberality of our people has heretofore conferred. We expect to keep right along, and do the best we can for all interested, to compensate our patrons for that measure of encouragement their liberality may favor us with.

Next week we begin the seventh year of the Independent, and will here suggest to those who have not done so that now is a good time to subscribe—though that is always in order—and pay as help us to carry on an assistant to our mutual prosperity. It is, perhaps, a long time since any one party has continued a paper for six consecutive years, at this place, but as we have passed safely through six, we can calculate with some assurance, life and health permitting, to add the seventh in the coming twelve months.

A few who are now subscribers, although our terms are in advance, who have been indulged to the end of the year, will find it a good time to settle up. To those who are ever prompt in their duties toward the printer, we extend our sincere thanks, and hope they may continue in the way of well doing.

Some of our exchange brethren are often complaining that their neighbors take rather free with their locals without giving credit. To make that matter short, we say, let them take all they can get in that way, if they have not enterprise enough to look up locals of their own, and like the jackdaw with a borrowed peacock's tail, they will be found out. The question, to us, is too little to scold about, for we too, have seen numerous strays of that sort appropriated among the neighbors, but find it of no use to grumble. Brethren, use those locals, and if need be your heavy editorials, be common stock, if anybody chooses to make them so. Some of our most ponderous efforts have thus been used, and like Horace Greeley and the other big bugs we let them go—and have been none the worse for it.

As Saturday next is the time for selecting candidates by the republican party, it will be well for every true temperance man to examine closely before voting, to know whether he is sustaining the liquor interest by favoring such candidates—if there are any—as are in sympathy with the whisky party. That question is coming up before the people, and there is no use in trying to stave it off—now is as good a time to begin to vote right as we can have. See to it, then, that you vote right. The whisky party has long since thrown out the challenge, and temperance men should promptly take up the offer, and vote on till they see it through.

The railroad feeling continues to keep up its interest. The project in which Salem, Youngstown and other places are interested has received a charter, and the friends of the proposed work are sanguine of success.

The New Lisbon road will be completed to Niles in a few days, and measures are now taking to extend the same south to the Ohio river, and cross it into Pennsylvania, where it will connect with some of the principal roads of that state. Meantime our connection with Cleveland is fast coming to a practical conclusion.

Harvest has commenced in the southern states sates some time ago, also in southern Illinois and other states in the same latitude. The crops are turning out well. Our turn will come sometime early in July, when Stark county, from present appearances, will turn out a grand crop—one of the old fashioned sort—when hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat will be cut and put in the granaries of our well doing farmers.

Henry J. Raymond, editor and proprietor of the New York Times, died suddenly, at his residence, in New York., on last Friday evening. The cause of his death is not given, as his sickness was very brief. Mr R was about 50 years of age. In various public relations he was a distinguished man. He was a member of the legislature in his state, one or more times, lieutenant governor of the same, and within a few years served for two sessions of congress.

The recent heavy rains have been unfavorable to the wheat, especially where it stands heavy on the ground. In some fields a large portion of it has lodged, but a few dry days may result favorably to its rising again. The streams were considerably up on Monday.

P Stilgenbauer & Son inform our citizens that they are now at their new and elegant room in the opera building, where customers can constantly be supplied with everything in their line, consisting of confectioneries of every description, ice cream, and soda water of all flavors. Availing themselves of all the latest improvements in their business, they hope to be able to accommodate and please all who may favor them with their custom.

The fourth is coming and if young Ameriba desires to make a noise in the world he will find a great variety of fireworks in the shape of rockets, &c.

Those who have borrowed dishes which were at the G A R Festival in which to take home strawberries, are requested to return the same to McLain & Dangler's store, promptly as possible, so that the owners may get them again.

Mr Garrison IS a candidate for nomination to the legislature, notwithstanding all reports to the contrary.

DIED

At the family residence in this city, on the 7th inst., Mrs Lucinda Luthoia Higginbotham, wife of Mr Robert Higginbotham, in the sixty-third year of her age.

Mrs Higginbotham was born in the city of Dublin, on the 3d day of March, 1807, and was married to Mr Robert Higginbotham—who survives her—on the 22d day of February, 1828. In the autumn of 1836 Mr Higginbotham removed to what is now the city of Massillon,—then a small hamlet. Remaining in the country but a short time, he removed to his present residence, where he has resided nearly one third of a century, and so far as the settlement and upbuilding of the portion of the city in which they resided would go, Mr and Mrs Higginbotham could well lay claim to being pioneer settlers. In all the relations of life Mrs Higginbotham was a most exemplary and worthy woman. She was one of the first members of St Timothy's Protestant Episcopal church, in this city, which was organized in 1836, and from the day of her uniting with the church until the day of her death, never neglected her duties as a member.

Entirely unassuming in her deportment, she was little known outside of the immediate circle of warm and devoted friends in which she moved, and it was there, being best known, that she was most loved. To the extent of her means, the poor and needy, in sickness and in health were the recipients of her bounty, and in its modest bestowment it was twice blessed. For many years disease had been preying on the delicate frame work of her constitution, and she was unable to obey the promptings of her nature in performing acts of benevolence, and after much suffering went to her grave in a full age like as a shock of corn cometh in his season." For her, death had no sting; over her, the grave no victory. Com.

Useful and Practical Hints about the every day out-door and in-door work, of great value. A single hint often saves a valuable animal, or changes one's method of performing a particular kind of work so as to greatly lessen its drudgery. A farmer was troubled with smut in wheat. A single line in his newspaper told him to "wet the seed with tar water and roll it in lime." Acting on this hint for part of his crop, gave him an increase of over five bushels per acre of fine wheat, worth a hundred dollars on twenty acres, and many hundreds of dollars in after years. The knowledge, extended to his neighbors, resulted in thousands of dollars net profit. Similar illustrations are continually occurring in all departments of life. Indeed, progress and profit come from an accumulation of these hints. The above train of thoughts is suggested by looking through the American Agriculturist for June 1st, advance of which has come to hand. Its pages are crowded with useful hints and suggestions, told in plain language, by practical, observing men, and in a multitude of instances illustrated with engravings that spoke directly to the eye, and the mind, more effectually than words can do. We notice that the publishers offer a beautiful Annual, free to every subscriber to the Agriculturist received during June, for the current year. Orange Judd & Co., publishers, 245 Broadway, N. Y.

A Word to Horsemen.

Dr Tobias' Celebrated Venetian Horse Liniment has been tefted by the best horsemen in this country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y. who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America. It is warranted to cure lameness, sprains, scratches, bruises, galls, cuts, wind, galls, colic, sore throat, nail in the foot, and over heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ horses are assured that this lin ment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named cmplaints. No horse need die of the colic, if when taken, the liniment is used according to the directions.

Price, in pint bottles, one dollar. The gauuine is marked S I Tobias on the outside wrapper. For tale by the druggist, saddlers, and storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, N Y. 311-4w

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy bilous stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially scarlet fever and diseases of a similar character,

I I, Cook, publisher of the State Banner, Bonnington, Vt, says Brandreth's Pills cured him of dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five yo rs. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible: but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Grandreths Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes. They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her: she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored.

PENOYER'S

Great Brazilian Remedy for

PILES.

The Latest Medical Discovery of the Age.

A Medicine that is Warranted to Cure,

And has no rival aside from surgical interferences, and then it proclaims itself the victor. This medicine has been thoroughly tested during the past three years, to satisfy all familiar with its merits, that it is not only a palliative, but that it actually removes the disease itself. The

Eureka Pile Remedy

OR BRAZILIAN OIL

is not only used locally (as principally all remedies, heretofore have been) but is also administered internally, which is the only rational theory, as the primary object in the cure of any disease, is first to remove the pain and then remove the cause. This is more readily accomplished by regulating the liver and kidneys, and imparting health and vigor to the mucous membrane of the whole alimentary canal. Beside the medicine is specific in its action, completely controling the circulation of the blood in the hemorrhoidal vessels. We warrant our compound to be purely vegetable. Simple and harmless in its action, as the most delicate tolerate it well. It corrects deranged neutrition or deficient circulation of the blood. In short, it makes the palid cheek bloom like the rose by imparting health and vigor to the whole system.

Read what your neighbors say of it

Massillon, O. March 10 1869.

Mr J Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I called on you last June and obtained some of your Pile remedy, of which I used one day and am entirely cured. I had been in a suffering condition for some time, I can recommend the medicine very highly to any one suffering in such condition. It is a sure cure.

Yours truly, T H STANSBURY,
Marble Cutter.

Massillon, O, Dec 11, 1868.

This certifies that I have been afflicted for quite a number of years with Piles, and have never before been able to affect a cure. I lately tried the use of Mr J Penoyer's Lozengers and have been greatly relieved by their use, and have every reason to believe that it is a very excellent medicine.

JOHN B WERT,
Boot and Shoe Merchant.

Massillon, O. Dec. 14, 1868.

Mr J Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I feel it a privilege to acknowledge the cure of piles of from nine to ten years standing. After trying all other remedies I could hear of, and finding no relief, I then used your medicine only forty-eight hours and can say I am entirely well—never felt better in my life—and cheerfully recommend the medicine to all afflicted tith the Piles.

WESTLEY DONALDSON.

Alliance, O. Nov, 16, 1868.

Mr Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I have for some time neglected to acknowledge the receipt of your medicine. I took it as directed, and from that date am happy to say, I am perfectly well!—not the least troubled, Yours truly,

Z B JOHNSON. Union Livery.

Massillon, O. December, 17th 1868.

Mr J Penoyer—Sir:—I have been troubled with Piles for the past ten years, and have at last found a permanent cure in the Great Brazilian Pile Remedy. Yours truly,

J H HARDGROVE,

Massillon, O, Nov. 27, 1868.

Mr Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I deem it but just to acknowledge the benefit I have derived from the use of your pile remedy. I have suffered for over fifteen years and have spent, I think, one thousand dollars, and have never before found permanent relief. I am happy to say I am well—entirely cured—and can cheerfully recommend your medicine to all afflicted with the piles. J W TRUITT.

Massillon, O. Sept. 9, 1868.

Mr J Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I consider it a privilege to acknowledge the cure of my wife from the use of your medicine. After using it one day she remained perfectly well. I can recommend it to all afflicted with piles. J BEAN.

Hemetite, Jefferson Co, Mo
January 1, 1869.

Mr J PENOYER—Dear Sir; I have used your Eureka Remedy, or Brazilian Oil, and find it a sure for piles. I have suffered with them for several years, and have tried numerous other remedies, but never had anything to relieve me so soon as your medicine has. I can truly say it cured me in less than twenty-four hours, and I have not been troubled with them since.

Yours, &c. SAMUEL ALLLRTON.

Massillon, O, March 3, 1869.

Mr J PENOYER—Sir: I wish to say that one bottle of the Brazilian Pile Remedy has entirely cured my wife. She has been afflicted for years. We can safely recommend it to all afflicted as a sure cure.

Respectfully S. C. McDONALD.

To Whom it May Concern:—I hereby certify that I am personally acquainted with Messrs Samuel Allerton, of Hemetite, Jefferson Co., Mo., John Bean, Massillon, O, J. H. Hatdgrove, James Truitt, T. H. Stansbury, John B. Wert and Westley Donaldson, also of Massillon and Z. B. Johnson, of Alliance, O., and take pleasure in certifying that they are men of good moral character and that full faith and credit are due and can safely be given to all the matters and things set forth in these several certificates in reference to the efficacy of the "Brazilian Remedy" for Hemorrhoids or Piles.

Witness my official signature and seal, the day and year above written.

We, the Druggists of Massillon, call the attention of our customers to the letters published below of the wonderful efficacy of Dr Roback's Stomach Bitters, Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Purifier, and Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Pills. We have been selling these medicines long enough to know that they are all they are recommended to be, and that the certificates of cures published are true.

The following, from one of the most worthy citizens of Athens County, Ohio.

We take pleasure in publishing such certificates, as we know it to be genuine.

EDITOR.

Athens, Athens Co., O,, August 10, 1859.

Dr. C. W. Roback,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

Yours, &c.

"RIVERSIDE"

Lots For Sale.

That beautiful tract of land known as the

on the bluff west of Massillon, and on the western bank of the Tuscarawas river, together with the joining lands has just been divided up into town lots, which are recorded as the Riverside Addition to the town of Massillon.

The lots are of good size and will be sold at such easy terms of payment as to place a home within the reach of all. The beauty of the location is unsurpassed, and we believe it is a conceded fact that a location on the west bank of a running stream of water is always more healthy than one on the east bank.

It is apparent to all that the business and population of Massillon are very rapidly increasing; it is also apparent that public attention is directed to the west side of the river as the most desirable point for a home now in the market, or that probably ever will be in the market again. We think therefore that it is safe to predict that in a very few years this grand addition

RIVERSIDE,

Will be covered over with dwelling houses, which will be occupied by a large proportion of the busy citizens of the city of Massillon.

Every man who has a family or ever expects to have one ought to have a home in his own right, then he will be independent, if not rich. A better opportuniiy will never again be offered of securing one so dsirable, so cheap; and so easily paid for.

Also a very desirable subdivision of about eight acres, adjoining Massillon, on the Canton road, will divide well into three or four pasture lots. Also some beautiful lots in the east part of the city.

The plots may be examined, and lots selected at my store. [292] P. G. ALBRIGHT.

The ladies of the Methodist church will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival in Madison Hall, on Friday evening of this week. A few fancy articles will also be for sale. Admission ten cents.

Miss D Elizabeth Darling has the pleasure to announce to the citizens of Massillon that she will give public readings from the most popular authors. at Madison Hall, on Monday evening June 28th, commencing at 8 o'clock. She has testimonials from Hon Anson Smyth, late state school commissioner of Ohio; Rev C E Felton and A J Rickoff, Esq., all of Cleveland.

For some time the babies, or a portion of them, in this vicinity, have been pestered with the measles; and it may be that in a few cases death has followed the affliction. The epidemic, or whatever the doctors choose to call it, not only attacks the little ones, but older persons are suffering from it—and they have the measles in the plural number—in some cases are severely attacked, but not dangerously that we hear of.

Mr Errett, president of Alliance College, has, we regret to learn, resigned his position. Efforts have been made to induce him to go to Kentucky, and take charge of a college or university, but it is not yet known that he has accepted the offer. No doubt there are good and able men competent to take the place in the Alliance college which Mr E has vacated, but there are few, very few, who combine the qualifications he possesses in an eminent degree—and there is not one in a million adapted to such a position who has been a printer. Prof Benton has been selected to take Mr Errett's place. The exercises of the first commencement of this new institution took place last week, and a correspondent of the Cleveland Herald refers to the progress made by the young ladies and gentlemen in terms of warm commendation. The condition of the college is reported to be good and bids fair to be prosperous.

The beautiful and appropriate observances practiced by our Episcopal friends annually, in behalf of their Sunday school, are admirable and worthy of imitation. On Sunday eve these ceremonies transpired at the church, where. not withstanding the lowering clouds and occasional showers, a goodly audience was present. The superintendent, Mr Arnold, called out certain members of each class, who went forward and presented beautifully wrought bouquets, accompanied with a choice sentiment or text of scripture, and a contribution In response to each of these sentiments Mr Timlow made happy and appropriate remarks, admirably suited to the suggestions of the words used. Each class was rewarded by presents of new books, and such as excelled most bore expressive banners, to which the class is entitled for one year. Intermixed with these exercises were Sunday school songs, all of which tend to enhance the interest of the children in their school. This is the season of flowers, so the time for these ceremonials is well chosen.

Our temperance friends at Lawrence are making preparations to celebrate the 3d of July in a proper manner. Able speakers are invited, and it is expected they will be present, who will present the truths of temperance to all who may be there to participate in this pleasant observance of the day. In the good time coming we may set it down as a pretty certain thing that the 4th of July and other national holidays will be observed without such evils and nuisances as pyrotechnics, or powder in any shape, or whisky in any guise.

Bro McGregor has very much improved the appearance of the Big Democrat by removing that unsightly big head, in great black letters, and putting in its place a neat and tasteful one. It makes the paper look better all over, although it is as rankly democratic as ever. Perhaps prejudice against so big and black a head had some influence in making the change—at any rate the paper is far better looking.

The G A R Festival on last Friday evening proved a decided success. It was well patronized, well conducted, and the managers were encouraged by the liberal receits, which amounted to nearly $200. Such a demonstration is but another evidence that the spirit of patriotism is fully alive among us, and needs but a hint to manifest itself in a tangible shape. The post of this place, we are told, is in a prosperous condition, is doing a good work, and frequently adding to its already large membership. May it continue to prosper!

Messrs. Rickett & Demuth, proprietors of the new drug store, in the Opera building, had a sort of house warming last Thursday evening, on which occasion they had a very large number of visitors—hundreds of people calling to see their new establishment—especially their finely arranged soda fountain Their room is a handsomely finished one, and their shelves and show cases are filled with everything pertaining to the business, put up in the most approved style, with much taste and elegance. It is a sight well worth seeing Active operations are about commencing to put up a new schoolhouse in West Massillon, which is to be larger than the Union school building. It is designed to embrace all the improvements in such structures, and render it worthy of the cause to which it is to be applied, and an ornament to that part of our growing city.

Some of our citizens who are interested in such a building, prominent among whom is Mr P G Albright, have put up a neat and substantial powder house on the Tremont road east of town. There it will not be interfered with by the roaring waters of the raging Tuscarawas.

On Wednesday of last week our fellow citizen, Mr J B Estep, who was away on business and a visit to his relatives at New Lisbon, in getting out of his carriage when about three miles from that place, somehow got one of his feet entangled with one of the wheels when in motion, and unfortunately broke both bones of his leg just above the ankle. He was brought home the same day, and since the accident has been getting along quite as comfortably as could be expected. But it is a serious and unfortunate accident for him, and will require considerable time ere he can use the crippled limb in a satisfactory way.

Among the numerous new buildings going up in various parts of the city we notice that Jas Harsh, Esq., and Nahum Russell have each commenced brick dwelling houses, on Prospect street. Mr Everhart is also erecting a fine brick dwelling on Main street. All of these are to be finished in superior style, and will materially add to the beauty and adornment of our streets. Where so many good buildings are going up it will be a shame if Massillon is much longer without lighted streets.

The vote of the members of the M E church of this place, on the question of lay delegation, on last Wednesday, resulted in 16 for and 30 against the proposed measure. According to reports from many other places it looks very decidedly to us as if the reform is going to carry by very large majority. And why not? are not these the days of true democratic advancement? Episcopacy may possess its advantage. and perhaps has well served that church heretofore, but is it not time to advance a step in the way of ecclesiastical government, and give the laity a voice in managing its affairs?

Mr. Schaufele's new advertisement in to-day's paper informs our citizens that he is carrying on a large business in his branch of trade. Read it, then give him a call, for he has lots of nice things to sell.

The repair building for the railroad is up and under a slate roof, and looks as if it will soon be ready for use. The circular wall for a turn table is about finished; and large quantities of stone are on the ground for the basis of the new depot.

After an absence of some months L. K. Campbell, Esq., has returned to this place to resume the practice of law, so we are informed.

Bro. G. I. Young, editor of the Buckeye State, New-Lisbon, has permitted the republicans of Columbiana county to nominate him for the state legislature. A republican nomination in that county is equivalent to an election. so we may set down bro Y. as one of the law makers of Ohio—provided nothing unforeseen prevents the consummation.

Mr. J. L. Durgin, who has his jewelry establishment in M. Higley's music store room, is having a good trade in cleaning and repairing clocks and watches, and doing other work in his line. His terms are very reasonable, and his long practice in the trade enables him to give satisfaction in intricate and difficult work. He is also agent for an improved fire and burglar safe. Give him a call—opposite the Opera building.—311 2t

It is said that a considerable portion of the apples are falling off here, which, if a general thing, will render that fruit less plenty than was at first anticipated. The peach crop promises a more than usual abundance.

Capt Mayers has been making regular trips between this place and Dover since he has commenced the new enterprise. About 8 o'clock a m our citizens can hear the boat bell, and passengers and freight are soon off for the town of Dover.

Since Mr Madison has taken charge of the American the popularity of the house has continued. and he is making it a place of more than ordinary attraction for the traveling public. Among the good hotels everywhere the American stands with the number ones.

Prof E N Horsford's Patent self raising flour and corn meal. It is always ready and reliable. It saves time, labor, money and health. It saves one half the butter, lard and eggs. It saves all the baking powder, soda and cream tartar. It makes wheat bread, corn bread and biscuit. It makes griddle cakes and waffles. It makes pound, jelley, gold, silver, Lincoln, drop, short, fruit, and all other kinds of cake, with less labor and expense, and with more certainty than any other flour. It is put up in 6½ lbs sacks, is sold and delivered free with in the city, by J S Arnold, at W E London's store.

Cannot the person who, in a mistake, borrowed John H Miller's umbrella on the evening of the G A R festival, so far innovate on the regular custom in this point as to return the same to the owner? It has his name marked plainly.

The streets of Massillon are models in width for any town or city to imitate. Main, the principal street, is 100 feet wide, and many of the others are 80 feet. In this matter many towns make a serious mistake in laying out their streets too narrow. There is room in this country to make towns, and enough for almost any of them, if they would appear in good shape, to have wide streets.

Mr Burton is having erected on the south east margin of the Massillon cemetery, one of the finest structures for the dead in this part of the country. A number of mechanics are at work constructing the vaults and other appendages to such places of memorial.

Our Canton neighbors have already commenced the construction of their water works, which they expect to make a most useful and efficient means of safety to their rapidly growing city. They will find that $100,000 invested in that shape will be as wise an appropriation of money for their safety as they can desire. Massillon is well favored in that way.

The people of Navarre and vicinity have just put up a very fine looking brick school house, a building very much needed there, as there have been very poor school accommodations among them for years.

HEMBOLD'S.

Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

ERADICATES ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES OF THE THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP, and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints the remnants of diseases hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by adults and children with perfect SAFETY.

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

HEMBOLD'S
Concentrated Fluid Sarsaparilla,
Established upwards of 18 years. PREPARED BY H. T. HEMBOLD,

THOSE WHO DESIRE BRILLIANCY OF COMPLEXION must purify and enrich the blood, which Helmbold's Concentrated Extract of Sarsaparilla invariably does. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. 2m

HELMBOLD'S CONCENTRATED EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA is the great Blood Purifier. 2m

Nature is the Great Physician.

This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillfull compounders of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the bitters, soon feels as though he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his veins. It is prepared with great care; and its component parts are entirely vegetable It is free from the objections so often urged adainst preparations of the kind. As a medical agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite It is free from all the properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient, All who have used Hostetter's stomach bitters attest its virtues.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventatives of of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of the ills that flesh is heir to. In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system. 305-1y

A GREAT REMEDY
Throat and Lung Diseases,
Pine Tree Tar Cordial

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safeguard and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the pine tree.

It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite.

It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs

It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs.

Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation.

It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with the positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:

Consumption of the lungs, Cough, Sore Throat, and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, &c.

We are often asked why are not other remedies in the market for consumption, coughs, colds, and other pulmonary affections equal to Dr Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial. We answer—

1st. It cures not by stopping cough but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected on the throat, bronchial tubes, causing irritation and cough.

2d. Most diseases of lungs, throat, &c., commence with a cold, which by the cough is confined to the surface, but by the continuing cough sets the fibres of tissues hardened, and the unhealthy blood gets diseased instead of the system assimilating disease blood and thereby producing consumption, &c.

3d. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial when taken, acts directly upon the lungs, throat, &c., and by its healing qualities against the unhealthy matter and by its expectorant power it loosens and removes the cough, and by its healing qualities against the unhealthy matter and by its expectorant power it loosens and removes the cough, and by its healing qualities it heals the irritated surface, and by its tonic properties it builds up the system, and by its purifying qualities it purifies the blood thus scientifically making a perfect cure.

Dr Wishart has in use in his cellar hundreds and thousands of certificates of cures from men and women of the most reliable character who were considered incurable, but through the providence of God were completely restored to health by the Pine Tree Tar Cordial. A physician in attendance for consultation personally or by mail, free of charge. Price $1 per bottle, 3 for $2, delivered anywhere on receipt of price. Some Giants.

In 1718 a French academician named Henrion endeavored to show a great decrease in the hight of men between the periods of the Creation and the Christian Era. Adam, he says, was 123 feet 9 inches high; Eve was 118 feet 9 inches; Noah 27 feet; Abraham, 20 feet; Moses, 13 feet. The allegation about Adam is moderate compared with that made by early Rabbinical writers, who affirm that his head overtopped the atmosphere, and that he touched the Arctic Pole with one hand and the Antarctic with the other. Traditionary memorials of the primeval giants still exist in Palestine in the form of graves of enormous dimensions; as in the grave of Abel near Damascus, which is 30 feet long; and that of Seth about the same size; and that of Noah, in Lebanon, which is 70 yards long!

Pliny says that by an earthquake in Crete a mountain was opened, and in it was discovered a skeleton standing upright, 46 cubits long, which was supposed to be that of Orion or Otus. The same author relates that in the time of Claudius Cæsar there was a man named Gabbaras, brought by the emperor from Arabia to Rome, who was 9 feet four inches high, the tallest man that had been seen in our times. But this giant was not so tall as Posio and Secundilla, in the reign of Agustus Cæsar, whose bodies were preserved as curiosities in a museum in the Sallaustian Gardens, and each of whom measured in length 10 feet 8 inches.

The Emperor Maximus (very much of a man) was 9 feet high, and was in the habit of using his wife's bracelet for a thumb ring. His shoe was a foot longer than that of any other man, and his strength so great that he could draw a carriage which two oxen could not move. He generally ate forty pounds' weight of flesh and drank six gallons of wine every day. Not at all a desirable or profitable guest for the St Nicholas, even at the current price of board; though not so tall as one of whom Josephus tells, viz.: Eleazar, a Jew, who was one of the hostages whom the king of Persia sent to Rome after peace. This giant was over 10 feet high. But these are pigmies compared with him of whom Kircher writes (though this is what a Yankee would call a whopper). The ...ot this giant ...must have belonged ...a man 400 feet high.

In times more modern (1613), some masons digging near the ruins of a castle in Dauphine, in a field which by tradition had long been called the Giant's Field, at the depth of 18 feet discovered a brick tomb 30 feet long, 12 feet wide, and 8 feet high, on which was a gray stone with the words Theutobochus Rex cut thereon. When the tomb was opened they found a human skeleton entire 25½ feet long, 10 feet wide across the shoulders, and 5 feet deep from breast to the back. His teeth were about the size of an ox's foot, and his shin bone measured 4 feet in length.

Plot, in his Oxfordshire, 1676, says that a skeleton 17 feet high was then to be seen in the town hall in Lucerne. It had been found under an oak in Willisau, near the village of Reyden. He instances numerous gigantic bones which had been dug up in England, and adds: Its remains that (notwithstanding their extravagant magnitude) they must have been the bones of men and women; nor does anything hinder but they may have been so, provided it be clearly made out that there have been men and women of proportionable stature in all ages of the world, down even to our own days.

Old Cotton Mather held the belief that there had been in the antedeluvian world men of very prodigious stature, in consequence of the finding of bones and teeth of great size, which he judged to be human, in Albany. He describes one particular grinder weighing 4½ pounds, and a broad, flat, fore-tooth four fingers in breadth; also a bone, supposed to be a thigh bone, 17 feet long, which, with the others crumbled to pieces as soon as it was exposed to the air.—W A Seaver, in Harper's Magazine for July.

Wonders of Nature.

Paul Du Chaillu in his "Wild Life Under the Equator," gives the following account of the wonderful traveling ant of Africa:

"Of all the ants which inhabit the regions I have explored, the, most dreaded of all is the bashikouay; it is very abundant, and the most voracious creature I have ever met. It is the dread of all living animals, from the elephant and the leopard down to the smallest insect. No wonder that the animal and insect world flies before them! These ants, so far as I have been able to observe do not build a nest or house of any kind; they wander throughout the year, and seem never to have any rest. They are on the march day and night. I never saw them carry anything away; they devour everything on the spot. It is their habit to march through the forest in a long, regular line, just as soldiers would do, and with quite as much order and regularity. The line is about two inches broad, and often several miles long. All along this line are larger ants standing outside of the ranks, and keeping this singular army in order. These officers stand generally with their heads facing their subordinates. They remain thus until their squads have passed, and then join them, while others take their place. The number of a large army is so great that I should not even dare to make a calculation. I have seen one continued line passing at good speed a particular place for twelve hours. It was sunrise when I saw them, and it was only a little before sunset that their numbers began to diminish. An hour before the end of the column came, it was not so compact, and I could see that these were the stragglers; and many of these were of a smaller size; they were evidently tired. When I saw them in the morning I did not know how long since this vast army had begun its march. This was the largest column I ever saw. You may imagine how many millions on millions there must have been. I have seen smaller columns on the march, but it generally required several hours for them to pass.

"Strange as this may seem, these ants cannot bear the heat of the sun, hence they could not be found in a country where the forests are scarce. If they come to a place where there are no trees to shelter them from the sun, they immediately build underground tunnels, through which the whole army passes in column to the forest beyond. These tunnels are four or five feet underground, and are only used during the heat of the day. I have noticed that these open spaces are often passed by them during the night to the forest beyond. I suppose that these underground tunnels must be numerous; I do not see how otherwise the ants could protect themselves against the heavy rains. I have never seen them lying drowned on the ground after a storm; hence, they must know when a storm is coming, how to disappear; and generally after a heavy rain these armies are more numerous in the forest, for they probably come in quest of food, of which they have been deprived during their subterranean marches.

"They always attack with a fury which passes description. Where the the soil is sandy none of them can be found. When they get hungry the log file spreads and scatters itself through the forest in a front line; how the order reaches from one extremity to the other is surprising. Then they attack and devour all that comes within their reach with a fury and voracity quite astonishing. The elephant and the gorilla fly before this attack; the leopard disappears from his den; the black men run for their lives; for who would dare to stand still before such an army? In a very short ... enemy would ...g sort of way. It ... said that now and then a man is put to death in the following manner: He is tied to a tree that is in the path of this army. What a terrible death it must be! Every animal that lives on the line of their march is pursued, and, though instinct seems to indicate the coming danger, many are caught. In an incredibly short space of time the mouse, the insect, and many small animals are overwhelmed, killed, eaten, and their bare skeletons only remain.

An Unsatisfactory Customer.

From the story Doubles and Quits, in Blackwood's Magazine, we take a little sketch that is worthy of Dickens. Mr Finney, the principal character, is visited by a lawyer and friend for the purpose of eliciting some information from him in regard to a suit:

'Good evening, sir,' said the lawyer, blandly, on entering.

'Evenin',' said Mr Finney, without raising, but staring like a sphynx, and inserting a huge wedge of soap-like cheese into his mouth.

'And a lovely evening it is, continued the lawyer cheerfully.

'Aint been hout,' replied the carpenter, thickly, through his cheese.

'You're Mr Finney, I think?' said my companion.

'Hevery man 'as 's himpressions,' said Mr Finney, washing down the cheese with a mouthful of beer, and and keeping his winkless eyes upon us. 'Sometimes they're kreck—sometimes not kreck.'

'Quite true,' smiled my friend, humoringly, 'but I know you're Mr Finney.'

'Why do you ask, then?'

'Only for form's sake,' my dear sir.'

'Oh!' and he went on munching and staring, like a cow chewing the cud.

'Mr Thomas Finney, I may say,' continued the lawyer.

'Oh, you know that too, do you?'

'Oh, yes, my dear sir, I know that too.'

'Then you did'nt want to ask me the question, I expect.'

'No; but I know more about you than you think, Mr Finney.'

'P'raps you're a hextra clever man?'

'I hope so, it's my business to be clever.'

'P'raps you know more nor there is to know.'

'Oh, no, no!' laughed the lawyer, as though much tickled with Mr Finnny; 'but I assure you we know nothing that isn't to your credit.'

'Don't you, now?'

'No, indeed, we don't. You've had your misfortunes, of course.'

'Of course, of course.'

'But you've got over them all.''

'There's no more a-comin', then, I suppose?'

'My dear sir, let us be serious, I am here as a lawyer.'

'That's one misfortune I ain't got over then.'

'Ah, Mr Finney, I see you're an incorrigible joker, like all your dramatic gentlemen. Will you answer an honest man a plain question, joking apart, now?'

'Oos a jokin? I ain't, nor this 'ere gent, as I knows on, and I'm not aweer as you've said nuffink hextra comic. I ain't larfed, as I knows on. Oos a jokin?'

'Will you answer a question, then?'

'I ain't on hoath, I suppose?

'Certainly not; it's a private question—all among friends. I only want to see if you can tell me something I know all about already, said the lawyer, rather outdiplomatizing himself.

'Ah I see—it's a k'nundrum; but I give it up—never could mak' nuffink of them.'

The lawyer looked at me in despair.

'I think you had better ask the question straightforwardly,' I said: 'there is no reason why Mr Finney should object to answer it.'

Mr Finney looked perfectly wooden and placid, and browsed at his bread and cheese.

'Well, then, straightforwardly, Mr Finney, are you a married man?'

'Well then, straightforwardly, I can't tell you.'

'That's odd; were you never married?'

'Yes, I was.'

'A widower, perhaps?'

'Mayhap.'

'You don't know?'

'I don't know, and I don't bruise my hoats, and I ain't a-going to Rosherville, and wot's more, I don't care; and now, please tell me wot this ere lark is. Wot are you comin' a-nigglin and a-nagglin at me for, and disturbin' me at my wittles? Oo are you, you white faced cus?' The manner was as calm as ever, though the words were strong. 'I ain't a goin' to sit hargle-barglin' with you all night; my time's hup—it is. 'Ooo are you?'—and he rose.

WHITTLESEY'S DYSPEPSIA CURE.—It will cure sick and nervous headache. Hear what Geo. I. Vail, Produce Merchant, Norwalk, says of it: "I have used Dr. Whittlesey's dyspepsia cure for headache—especially nervous headache, and for derangement of the stomach proceeding from indigestion—and take pleasure in recommending it to the use of all who may be similarly affected, believing that in the majority of cases they will derive such benefit as cannot be derived from the use of any other tonic that pretends to relieve like difficulties."

The South Waking Up.

The New York Mercantile Journal makes the following striking statement: "Business journals and business men, summing up the grand results of last year's agricultural and manufacturing activity in the southern states, agree in assigning a clear ret... about $200 000 ...g establish... the south, with nearly three and a half millions of spindles in operation. One of the Georgian factories with a capital of something more than half a million dollars, manufactured nearly 6,500,000 yards of cloth last year.

Mr. Haynes, warden of the Massachusetts State Prison, in his valuable book, recently published, says that, during the eleven years that he has been connected with the institution, twenty-one persons have been imprisoned for killing their wives, two for killing their fathers, and one for killing his mother. Of these twenty four, all but one were not only habitual drunkards, but actually drunk when they committed the crime. And he also remarks that "these were not bad men, except when under the influence of liquor; and yet, justice can make no distinction, but holds him equally guilty who commits crime under such circumstances as the one who soberly and with intellect unclouded violates the law. Our readers will draw their own inferences from facts such as these, which make the liquor traffic very repulsive.—N. Y. Ind.

Chinese Version of the Parable of the Prodigal Son.

Choy Awah, a young Chinaman, is a scholar at the Five Points House of Industry. He reads the testament in English, and then gives the sense in a dialect of his own. The following is given in the monthly record for May. It is the parable of the Prodigal son:

"A man, he two sons. Son speak he to father; father got money; give some he; father he take it all right. I just now give you half. He give him half; he go long way—like me come from China to New York. No be careful of money, use too much; money all gone; he very hungry. He went to man. He want work, he say; all right; he tell him to feed pigs. He give pigs beans; he eat with pigs himself. He just now talk. My father he rich man—too much money. What for me stay here hungry? I want to go back and see my father. I say to him, I very bad. He knows I bad Emperor (God) see I bad. No be son, me be coolie. He go back; long way, father see him. He take him on the neck. The son say, I very bad. I just now no be your son; I coolie. His father talkey to boy, and say, get handsome coat; give him ring; give he shoes; bring fat cow—kill him; give him eat. They very glad. He all the same dead; just now come back alive; he lost; he get back. Number one son come. He hear music; he tell servant, What for they make music; he say, your brother come back; your father very glad he no sick, he kill fat cow, number one son very angry; he no go inside; very angry. Father he come out; he say, No no be angry. Number one he say, I stay all time by father; never make him angry. My father never kill one fat cow for me. My brother he very bad, he use money too much; he have fat cow and music. Father say, You no understand; he just dead; he now come to life; he lost; he now come back. They make music.

The Chicago convention of Christians opposed to secret societies adjourned after passing resolutions pledging themselves to raise $10,000, to be used in furthering the objects of the association, and denouncing all secret societies, particularly Odd Fellows, Good Templars, and Masons. One speaker professed to give his experience in seven degrees of Masonry, stating that upon initiation he was stripped, put in a coffin, made to take a horrid oath never to reveal the scenes, murder and treason not excepted, and divers other diabolical proceedings. Ten states were represented in the convention.
